The most money is made on cheap things. Beware of cheap baking powder. It contains alum and other things bad for you; or it is weak and wastes money.

If Schilling's Best could be made and sold for the price of the cheap baking powders, we should be only too glad to make it and sell it so; for the whole market—yes the whole world—would be ours.

Your grocer knows—ask him.

with the inspectors of each island at once, instead of having to refer matters to the school agent and then to the Board at Honolulu.
The work of the department was increasing so fast that Inspector General Townsend was unable to give all the schools necessary supervision.
What was needed was constant supervision and inspection and not an occasional visit from the Inspector General once in six months. His plan provided for Mr. Townsend's residing in Ho-lulu, where he could personally supervise the schools of this island and Kauai. When more schools were added to Kauai it could have a third inspector. He thought that Mr. Gibson might be induced to act as inspector for Hawaii and Mr. Hardy for Maui.
There would be no additional expense attached to this arrangement as the money saved from the salaries of the school agents would be sufficient to pay the salaries of the additional inspectors.
He had also in view the appointment of two permanent superintendents of public school buildings, whose duty it should be to supervise the erection of new schoolhouses and the repairing of old ones. He thought a great saving could be effected by these officials.
These new officers would take a great deal of work and responsibility off the Board and simplify its workings. He had talked two hours with Mr. Townsend over these plans and that official endorsed them heartily.

In response to questions Minister Cooper said the prerogatives of the Inspector General would not be interfered with in the least by the new arrangement. That gentleman would formulate his policy for the schools of all the islands and the other inspectors would be expected to carry it out and act in full accord with him. The saving in salaries of the school agents on Hawaii and Maui alone amounted to $187 monthly. It was his greatest desire to have full recognition and inspection extended to outlying schools throughout the islands.

After some further discussion Mr. Bowen moved that the Board endorse the Minister's plans and the motion was carried unanimously.
An arrangement entered into by Principals Wood of the Normal and Smith of the Fort street schools, by which the latter consents that some of the room in his school may be used by the former for practice work was ratified with the understanding that it was to exist only as long as was agreeable to Mr. Smith.

The Board then adjourned and will not meet again until after the holidays.
